

Safety and Health Capacity Building for Day Laborers and their Employers

Centro Humanitario Para Los Trabajadores and Colorado Department of Public Health and Environment

Melissa Bowman*

Jeff Vredenburg**

*BA Candidate - Saint Mary's College of Maryland -
Sociology and Spanish

**MA Candidate - University of Iowa - Geography

Day Labor

El Centro

- El Centro was started as a response to an injury
- Workers' Center: Day Labor
- Expanding reach to street corners

Centro Humanitario Para Los Trabajadores

Goals

- Identify areas for improvement
- Educate employers
- Orient workers towards workplace H&S

PPE Man Activity for Trainings

Methods

- Interviews
- Speaking with experts
- Street corner visits and observations
- Eight 45-minute training sessions
- Informational pamphlet

Results

- Better understanding of employers and workers
- 2 training curricula
- Renewed awareness of H&S at El Centro
- Giveback products

Our giveback stickers and employer pamphlets

Challenges

Successes

- 110 workers trained
- Interactive and visual training
- Worker feedback
- 118 water bottles distributed
- CDPHE Presentation

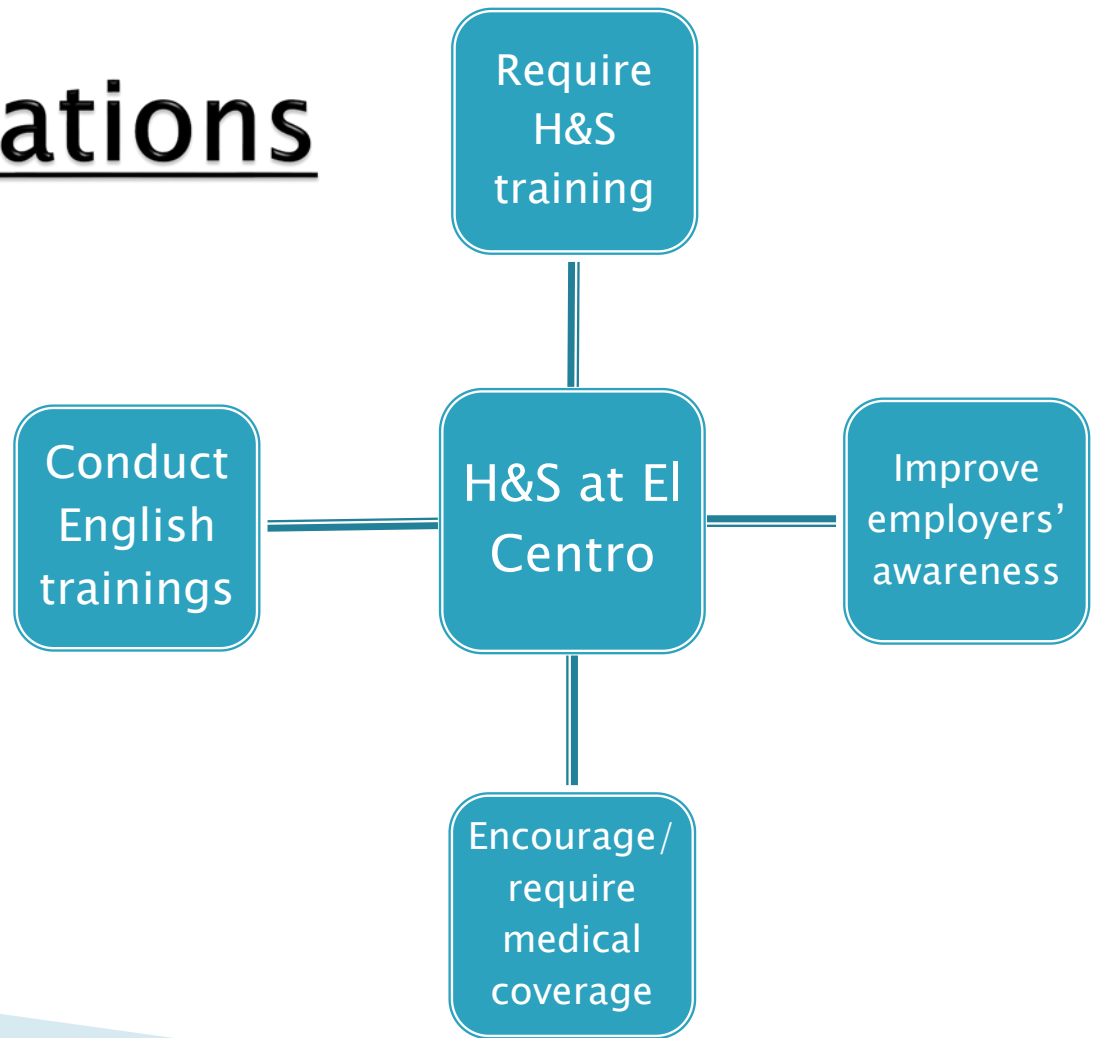

Jeff interacting with workers at a training

Recommendations

Workers engaged in chemical exposure training

What's happening now?

- El Centro is hiring for an employment expansion position!
- Continued training and outreach on wage theft and domestic workers

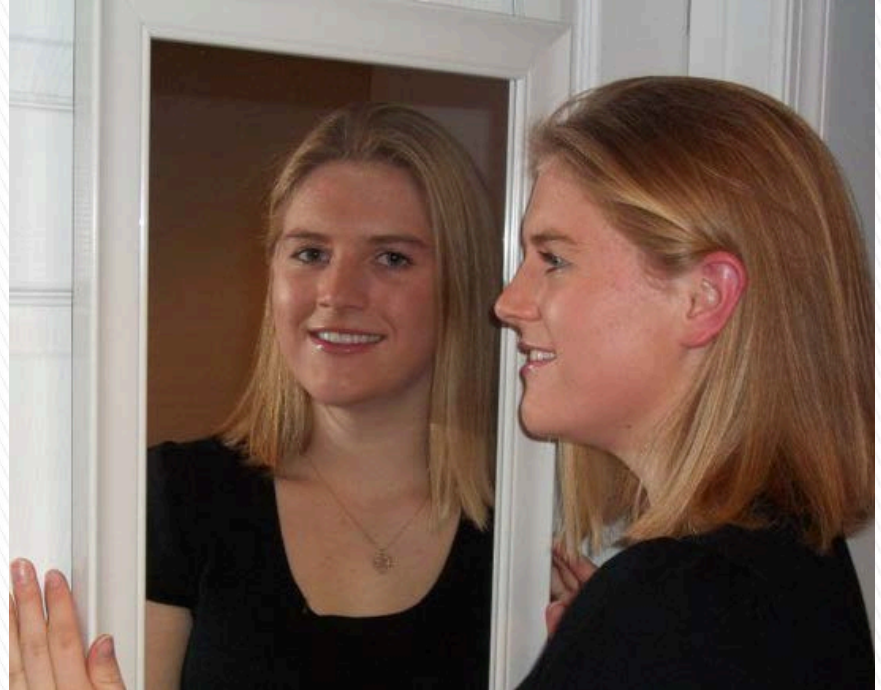

Quick Guides For Workers

Personal Reflections

Melissa
&
Jeff

Acknowledgements

Special Thanks To: Melissa Bowman

Mentors:

- ▶ Sarah Shikes and Marco Nuñez – Centro Humanitario
- ▶ Meredith Towle – Colorado Department of Public Health and Environment

Sponsors:

- ▶ AOEC, CSTE, CDPHE, NIOSH, University of Iowa GSS Grant

Experts in the field:

- ▶ Katie McClure – Sawaya Law
- ▶ Chris Mathewson – OSHA Denver
- ▶ Victor Ceron – Popular Educator, Casa Latina
- ▶ Veronique Facchinelli – Workforce Development Manager, Casa Latina

Gracias!

